One Hundred Twenty-eighth Commencement

Celebrating Over Sixty-five Years of Academic Excellence

December 12-13, 2024 Columbus State University

About Our Commencement Exercises

elcome to today's commencement event—part of several events celebrating Columbus State University's newest graduates. The commencement season is a milestone in our graduates' lives marking this special achievement. It is the start of their next chapter that may include continued study or professional practice.

While awaiting the start of today's ceremony, you might wish to read the information contained on the following pages: a historical profile of the university, a brief description of the university mace and presidential seal, and an explanation of the academic regalia worn by participants in the ceremony. Each of our ceremonies begins with a series of academic processions for which audience members are asked to stand, as they are able. The processions are headed by the faculty marshal, who escorts the candidates for graduation, followed by the faculty and the stage party.

According to academic tradition, candidates for graduation proceed to the platform in descending order of the degree to be conferred: doctoral degrees, education specialist degrees, master's degrees, baccalaureate degrees, associate degrees, nexus degrees and then certificates. When the ceremony is closed following the awarding of all degrees, audience members should again rise, as they are able, for the recessional.

Again, we welcome you to today's celebration of our graduates and hope you will find it to be both meaningful and impressive.

Those named in this program are candidates for graduation, pending verification by the Office of the Registrar that each has met all of the institutional and departmental requirements, and pending final grades.

Columbus State University has been woven into the fabric of the Columbus community for more than 60 years.

Is early as the 1940s, local leaders identified that having a Columbus-based college was a priority. They began collecting money, looking for a site, and lobbying the state for a local college. Through their persistence, donations of nearly $100,000, and the support of two voter-approved bond issues, Columbus College first opened on Sept. 22, 1958, in a temporary location — the Shannon Hosiery Mill on Talbotton Road. Nearly 300 students enrolled under the care of 15 faculty members and six administrators.

Those humble beginnings began a story that spans more than six decades of a deeply rooted relationship between what is now Columbus State University and the Chattahoochee Valley. Columbus College moved to its current Main Campus location in 1963 and became a four-year institution just two years later.

Campus master planning hit its stride in the early 1980s as construction expanded to match the growth in CSU's new collegiate structure and academic offerings. The late 1980s marked additional capital growth on campus, including the school's signature clock tower—completed in 1991 and named after its first president, Dr. Thomas Whitley. In 1996, the college was designated as a university and became Columbus State University.

Despite widespread higher education budget cuts marking the late 2000s, Columbus State University continued to prosper. This included establishing several new graduate programs — including its first doctoral degree — and its inaugural appearance on U.S. News & World Report's list as one of the top 50 comprehensive public universities in the South. During this time, CSU also strengthened its relationship with U.S. Army Fort Moore, expanded its online degree offerings, added NCAA and club sports, and established the Honors College.

Since 2000, Columbus State has concluded two successful comprehensive fundraising campaigns. The "Investment in People" Campaign, which exceeded its $67 million goal by nearly 50%, wrapped in 2005. In 2012, CSU's "First Choice" Campaign concluded after exceeding its $100 million goal by 20% with the support of more than 8,000 alumni and community donors.

CSU experienced additional integration with the Columbus community in 2007 with its new RiverPark Campus near the banks of the Chattahoochee River in historic Uptown. Today, the urban campus includes much of the university's fine, performing and communication arts programs and facilities; is home to the College of the Arts, the College of Education & Health Professions and many of its outreach centers; and offers students learning, living and dining options in addition to those on Main Campus.

In recent years, CSU has broadened its creativity, innovation and efficiency in its academic, operational and outreach efforts. This includes an intentional focus on servant leadership as both an institutional core value and an academic discipline. This innovative spirit has led to new workforce development-focused degree programs and increased standings in many national educational ranking programs.

During its 60-plus-year history, the university has been under the leadership of six presidents — including its current president, Dr. Stuart Rayfield, who began her tenure on June 1, 2023.

Stuart Eddings Rayfield President Columbus State University

r. Stuart Eddings Rayfield was named Columbus State University's sixth president by the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia on March 9, 2023. She began her official tenure on June 1, 2023.

An Alabama native, Dr. Rayfield earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Rhodes College in Memphis, Tennessee.

She then earned a master's in higher education administration focused on student affairs from the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa before earning a doctorate in higher education administration focused on leadership, policy and organizations from Vanderbilt University in Nashville.

President Rayfield's original tenure at Columbus State began in 2006 as an assistant professor, later holding the Frank D. Brown Distinguished Chair in Servant Leadership. Along with teaching, she directed the Servant Leadership Program, co-led the SACSCOC reaffirmation of accreditation, and co-developed the Master of Science in Organizational Leadership program, Servant Leadership track in the D. Abbott Turner College of Business & Technology. In 2015, she was also named interim associate provost for undergraduate education.

A year later, she accepted the role as interim president of the former Bainbridge State College, where she co-led the college's consolidation with Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College. She then immediately stepped into the role of interim president of Gordon State College, leading the college's transition to new leadership.

In July 2018, President Rayfield was named the University System of Georgia's vice chancellor for leadership and institutional development — stepping away only briefly in late 2019 to serve as the interim president of the University of West Georgia. In 2022, she served as interim executive vice chancellor for academic affairs, overseeing the university system's entire academic enterprise. As vice chancellor for leadership and institutional development, President Rayfield led support for USG's 26 public colleges and universities as well as the University System Office in areas that include management, leadership transitions, and training and orientation.

Before her service to the University System of Georgia, she held positions at Auburn University, Vanderbilt University, Middle Tennessee State University (Murfreesboro), and the University of Alabama.

Dr. Rayfield is married to David Rayfield, a partner at the law firm Waldrep, Mullin & Callahan LLC in Columbus, and a graduate of Rhodes College and the University of Alabama. Together, they have two daughters: Vivian, who attends the Georgia Institute of Technology, and Celia, a student at Calvary Christian School.

Scott Ressmeyer Commencement Speaker

cott Ressmeyer was born in 1959 in Ruthton, Minnesota, population about 300. When he was two, his family moved to Columbus. One of the first homes he lived in was on the land now occupied by the John B. Amos Cancer Center; this home also held his father's practice. Jake's for Steaks was one of his parents' favorite places to eat and talk. Getting bored one night as his parents Dr. Bob and Miss Joni talked, Scott walked back to the kitchen of the restaurant and offered to help. They hired him! He earned $1.45 an hour at 14 years old standing on a wooden Coke crates to wash dishes. It became the original Country's Barbecue on Mercury Drive in 1975.

During summers through high school, Scott went back to Ruthton and stayed with his grandparents—a place where he loved to be outside and first learned the value of neighbors helping neighbors from his grandfather who was a blacksmith. There was always work to be done helping the farmers in this rural community. When Scott turned 16, he took the opportunity to take off on his first road trip one summer and went with a friend to Maine to work on a small dairy farm. During his high school years, he returned home from the summer and the next day was back at Country's. When he graduated from Hardaway High, Jim Morpeth sent him to Albany, Georgia, for a year to the Country's there to be the assistant manager, and the next year he was transferred to the Country's in Auburn.

Scott still wasn't sure what he wanted to do with his life, so he decided to deviate from the path he was on and took off for Lillooet, British Columbia. He hoped to work for a logging company but was told he was way too skinny and small. He found work at a construction company where he worked for about 10 months until the Royal Canadian Mounted Police showed up and asked for his work visa, which he didn't have, and was politely asked to go back to Georgia. Before he even got out of the country, he reconsidered his life's path and called Jim Morpeth to see if he could come back to Country's. Thank goodness Jim said yes. Scott was 20 years old.

Scott worked his way up in the restaurant business learning many things the hard way, quickly realizing that every day in a restaurant is different. He has often said he received a degree from the school of hard knocks. But he worked hard and in 1988 he became co-owner of Country's. The Broadway location was opened that same year, followed by Country's North four years later in 1992.

Scott's first venture into community service began with his mother and father who felt strongly about serving their community and always said it was important to give just for the sake of giving. Jim continued to foster that commitment through encouraging community involvement, with one example being Country's Midnight Express, a 5k fun run to benefit the visually impaired.

Those experiences led Scott to help Karen Cook, Jennifer Joyner, Sandy Lewack and the other ladies in the Foundation at Columbus Regional. He helped start a 5k-10k run to benefit the John B. Amos Cancer Center as part of the Celebrity Classic and the Reindeer Run to benefit children treated at The Medical Center. A one-time desire to ride his 10-year-old Harley Davidson through all the lower 48 states became a fundraiser for the NICU and the Miracle Ride was born. Sixteen years later, over 40 riders and too many miles to count, the Miracle Ride has raised more that $2.5 million to help children in our community. Currently, the Miracle Ride has pledged to raise $1 million dollars for CSU's School of Nursing. In 2021, the CSU Alumni Association made Scott an honorary alumnus. Scott says about the ride, "Nothing keeps you from doing this ride but fear and common sense." Yet at the end of the day, "If one child we've helped gets the chance to travel across this great country, watch the sunrise and sunset, because of work we have done it's been a great day."

The History of Academic Pageantry The Academic Regalia

In its essential features, the academic regalia worn at American college exercises had its beginning in the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of Northern Europe grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded as a part of the clergy. As their regular costume, they wore the clerical garb that was borrowed largely from the monastic dress of their day.

The academic gown and hood were apparently first regularly adopted by Cambridge University in 1284 and by Oxford University a little later. The custom was transplanted to this country in colonial times by King's College in New York (now Columbia University).

In 1875, American universities and colleges decided to standardize their academic styles and developed the intercollegiate code of academic costume, which follows the Cambridge tradition. The distinctive caps, gowns and hoods worn at present-day college and university functions denote the institution that granted the degree, the field of learning in which the degree was earned, and the level of the degree – bachelor, master, or doctorate.

The gown is usually of black material (serge or worsted for bachelors, the same or silk for master's, and silk for doctors). Bachelor's gowns have pointed sleeves; master's gowns have long, pouch-like sleeves that reputedly were once used to carry books, sandwiches, etc. Doctor's gowns are faced with panels of velvet down the front and three bars of velvet across each sleeve.

The cap is a square mortar-board in most American universities, and a round soft, flat velvet hat in British, Canadian, and some European universities. It bears a tassel, which may be colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer. Only the doctor's caps may be of velvet.

The hood, worn around the neck so as to hang down the back, is the principal emblem of the nature and source of the degree held. The colors in the hood lining are the colors of the college conferring the degree. The color of the border indicates the scholarly field of the college conferring the degree and the scholarly field of the wearer. Hoods may be worn only after the degree has been granted. Certain standard colors represent the disciplines.

The color facing the hood, like the facing on the doctoral gown, indicates:

white arts and letters scarlet theology	lilacdentistry brownarchitecture, fine arts
olive pharmacy	pink music
purple law	orangeengineering
greenmedicine	light brown business
dark blue philosophy	lemon yellow library science
yellow science	light blue education
citron yellow social work	peacock blue international affairs
salmon pink public health	apricotnursing

The University Mace and Presidential Medallion

The word "mace" is derived from the Latin word mateola, meaning mallet or staff. In the Middle Ages, these staffs, with a ball of steel or brass at one end, were used as weapons against armored warriors. As the weapons of war became more sophisticated, the mace evolved from an instrument of battle to a symbol of authority and power. Universities in Europe adopted the mace as a symbol of authority and unity. This tradition has continued to the present day, and many institutions of higher learning use the mace in a ceremonial capacity.

Originally designed and constructed by Jamie Howard, at the time a Columbus State professor of art, the mace and medallion are two symbols of the office of the president. Commissioned by the Columbus State University Foundation, the university mace and the presidential medallion were first used in the inauguration of Dr. Frank D. Brown as the university's third president. The mace is constructed of rosewood, Bastogne walnut and sterling silver.

The medallion, augmented in 2012 with a chain and bronze border reflective of the university seal, is worn by the president at commencement and other ceremonial occasions. The silver part of the medallion bears a representation of the tree of knowledge.

CSU Mascot

The Columbus State University mascot is the cougar.

CSU Motto

The motto of Columbus State University is Primus Inter Pares, Latin for "First Among Equals".

The Academic Procession

The academic procession is a descendant of European religious processions, which began to include teaching faculties in the Middle Ages, when universities were closely associated with the medieval church. The order used in today's procession evolved in this country as the importance of ceremony developed in American institutions of higher learning.

Leading the procession is the mace-bearer. In medieval times, the mace bearer literally used the mace to maintain order at official occasions. Today, the mace is symbolic of the authority of the president's office. The mace-bearers in today's ceremony are the college faculty marshals. They will escort the stage party consisting of the president, vice presidents, deans, commencement speakers and others. They will then lead the members of Columbus State University's faculty to their seats.

University Gonfalons

-0/0/0E

The Columbus State University gonfalons, which are the distinctive college banners hanging from crosspieces on poles, were created as part of the university's 50th anniversary celebration.

Gonfaloni was originally the name given to local neighborhood meetings in medieval Florence. Each 'neighborhood' had its own flag and coat of arms, and the word gonfalon eventually became associated with the flag.

Universities and colleges around the world have adopted gonfalons to increase the ceremonial nature of commencement exercises. The top portion of each college's gonfalon is the designated color for each unit; white is the background color for each of the college's symbols, as well as one of the university's colors.
